

Wildhorse Foundation Online Privacy Policy

We appreciate your visit to our website.

The Wildhorse Foundation was established in 2001 by the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation ("CTUIR") to distribute a portion of Wildhorse Casino net revenues to charitable organizations in the Wildhorse market area in northeastern Oregon and southern Washington. To date the Wildhorse Foundation has issued grants to qualifying organizations in excess of $17 million.

Wildhorse Foundation maintains this website to provide information to the public about our granting process. Wildhorse Foundation respects the privacy of all visitors to this site. In order to provide the best service to our grant applicants, we may collect certain non-identifying information from visitors to this site. We may also require certain personal and/or financial information if you are submitting a grant application or requesting information from us over the Internet. This Privacy Policy details what information we may collect and how it may be used. All efforts have been made to ensure the accuracy of the information provided on this website; however, we make no warranties or representations as to the accuracy of this information.

Automatically Collected Non-Identifying Information

We may collect and use certain information about your use of this website that does not personally identify you, including your IP address and other information gathered by "cookies." This information may include pages viewed, date and time of visits to the website, type of browser and/or computer used and the domain name of the website, if any, from which you linked to our website. This information does not personally identify you. We collect it to help us develop generic profiles of users so that we can better serve our grant applicants. If you do not want your information to be collected by cookies, you should be able to set your web browser to reject cookies. If you choose to reject cookies you may not be able to take advantage of certain options on this website.

Personal Information

To submit a grant application via this website or to receive information from us, you may be required to provide personal information such as your name, address, telephone number, and/or email address. By providing such information you agree to be placed on marketing lists and to receive promotional materials from the Wildhorse Foundation. You can update any personal information you provide to us if you wish. We store personal information provided by grant applicants on secure servers. This website allows the transmission of personal information via secured and encrypted channels, provided that you use a similarly equipped web browser. Access to personally identifiable information which has been provided to us is strictly limited to Wildhorse Resort and Casino employees who work for the Wildhorse Foundation on a “need to know” basis. While we strive to protect your personal information, Wildhorse cannot ensure or guarantee the security of any information you transmit to us. Therefore, should you choose to provide personal information, you do so at your own risk.

Verification of Age and Removal of Minors Personal Information Policy

We have no intention to collect any personal information from minors. We reserve the right to verify age at any time for any reason and may reject anyone who does not produce legal, valid identification upon request. If a minor has provided us with personal information such as name, address, telephone number or email address, their parent or guardian should contact us as provided below to identify all information to be removed.

Sharing Information

We will not share your personal information with any non-affiliated third parties, except when such disclosure may be necessary to: (a) comply with a court order or other legal process or legal requirement of any governmental authority with jurisdiction over the Wildhorse Foundation, including but not limited to, CTUIR authorities that regulate Wildhorse Foundation granting activities to ensure compliance with the CTUIR-State of Oregon Gaming Compact; or (b) protect and defend the rights or property of Wildhorse Foundation or the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation. This website contains links to other websites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such sites. We have no control over the use of other sites. You should exercise caution when deciding to disclose your personal information.

Changes to Privacy Policy

We reserve the right, at any time and without notice, to add to, change, update, or modify this Privacy Policy simply by posting such change, update, or modification on this website. Any change, update, or modification will be effective immediately upon posting.

Ownership

Wildhorse Foundation is owned and operated by the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, a federally recognized Indian tribe. Nothing on this website is intended to nor shall in any way limit or waive the sovereign immunity of the Wildhorse Foundation, the Wildhorse Resort and Casino or the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation.
